

THE MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL.

MEMPHIS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1860.

BY MCLANAHAN & DILL.

Daily Appeal.

MR. DOUGLAS AND THE CONFEDERATE CONSTITUTION.

His Deaf of the Change of his Being the President of the Confederacy.

His Deaf of the History of the Conf., etc.

It seems that the Buchananites demand a right to secede, and never mind numerous circulars to parties generally in interested in getting up the Lecompton Constitution, the answer to which circulars have been in compelling evidence showing that

Mr. Douglas had no right to do so.

It was presented to the convention, and that he had concurred in the scheme by which the people of Kansas were deprived of the right of voting against the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Douglas has his attention directed to the master, and has given the whole

a most direct and unqualified denial.

In his speech at New Orleans, on the 15th, he had denied it.

An abolition newspaper has just been placed in my hands, containing what purports to be the history of the State of Kansas.

"I have no means of knowing that it is true," says the author.

"A voice," "Fiction," undoubtedly by J. W. Jones, looks over the names attached to the bill of rights of the Lecompton Constitution.
